Greater Muskegon's womenation with the County School Boards, conducted eighth graders through historical and civic centers. The group adopted as objectives the creation of civic consciousness through unity and coordination of activities; the en-

agement of and aid in development of the community; exchange of ideas; lending of support to other women's organizations in achievement of their objectives; and fostering of intelligent participation in community, state and national affairs.

Some of its larger undertakings include sponsorship of an area-wide Home Decorating contest at Christmastime; beautification of an area along Harvey street; sponsoring a Rural-City luncheon annually; and promoting a Get-Acquainted Dance for the Chamber of Commerce. Geraldine B. Sheldon was the group's first president. Her officers were Mrs. Gordon Gellton, vice-president; Mrs. Ma Woodard, secretary; and Mary E. Christie, treasurer. Board members were Mrs. Basil L.

With official recognition, the unit drew a tentative program which in the brief span of six years has already become reality or been incorporated into a permanent goal. One of the first was an education program for school children by which members, in co-operation with the County School Boards, conducted eighth graders through historical and civic centers. The group adopted as objectives the creation of civic consciousness through unity and coordination of activities; the en-
